

Gain Professional Experience in Washington, D.C.

Annelies Van Huffel

Country: Belgium

University: Ghent University

Semester: Spring 2015

Internship Site: The International Centre for Missing and Exploited Children

Program: Business and Global Trade

“Thanks to The Washington Center (TWC), I have become a more confident, open-minded and involved global citizen. By interacting with people from all around the world I gained multiple perspectives and an awareness I would not have achieved solely by studying in Belgium. The capital of the U.S. is the perfect place to meet a lot of engaged professionals. Moreover, my internship supervisor provided me with the necessary guidance to become a well-rounded professional myself. I was able to give back to the community of D.C. by tutoring young immigrants in English as a second language. I would definitely recommend this program to young professionals who want to kick-start their career.”

“As a business engineer it is very important to stay up to date with the politics around the world. The Washington Center (TWC) was the perfect fit. For an international student like me, this overseas experience changed the way I think about doing business and being professional. The Washington experience is not just an internship in D.C., it is a professional kick-start to your future. To pursue my dream career path, I have to be able to work with an immense variety of individuals and teams and TWC provided me with the proper experience to gain these useful skills and the experience I need for my career.”
