“The Washington Center (TWC) was a chance for me to grow as a global citizen and further develop empathy. Through LEAD colloquium programming, I better understood my values, skills and how to communicate with people in more professional way. My biggest piece of advice is to take advantage of the activities that TWC provides. During my civic engagement project, I was involved with animal rights. I volunteered at Lucky Dog Rescue Shelter and helped take care of rescued dogs. This was something I had always wanted to do in Korea. I found that in D.C., you have so many opportunities to become involved in civic engagement activities.”
