The Washington Center provides an internship program that ensures students remain active and available. If the student is international, TWC will begin the J-1 visa process immediately. Site reviews candidates and selects students within 2-3 business days. TWC matches students to sites and sends student application packets to internship sites. Students accept offers and connect with students. Students arrive in D.C., participate in TWC orientation, meet their academic program advisor, and prepare for their first day on the job.

*This ensures that the students are still active and available

If the student is international, TWC will begin the J-1 visa process immediately
- Site will be contacted by J-1 Visa officer
- Site supervisor signs Visa paperwork and returns documents to TWC
